Dr. Clarence H. Neymann of Martin Grove, Ill., has returned home after serving for almost a year with the German Red Cross.

"Some people declare," Dr. Neymann said, "that the Germans are now friendly to America. Well, toward such a declaration as that I'm rather cynical. I'm like the man who was visiting in the West.

"Ten years ago," a western mayor said to this man joyously—"ten years ago"—and he waved his hand out over the roofs—"there was no town here at all."

"Humph," said the visitor. "Humph, and what makes you think there's one here now?"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

An unusual sight in the line of a working team is often seen on our streets, made up of a bull and a horse, the horse being worked on the off side. This combination is the property of William P. Briggs of south hill, and he has used the pair to do his farm work since last spring, besides making trips to town whenever necessary. The bull is a registered Holstein, two years old, last February and is both heavier and stronger on a pull than his mate, a bay horse weighing perhaps 1100 pounds. The bull is harnessed in the same way as the horse with breeching, bits and collar and the pair are driven with reins. He will also work single if desired.
